WHAT

Final year's students from Industrial Engineering and Management program specializing in Energy Systems has this year, in course MJ2146 Energy System, Business and Management deconstructed, segmented and analysed the vast area of Cleantech to answer a number of unique questions such as:

- What constitutes the broad field of Cleantech today?
- Can Cleantech be segmented for a better understanding?
- Is the segments chosen "alive and kicking" and worth investing in?
- Which advices do start-ups and new ventures need in the respective area?
